

Program Data

Social Security

The Social Security program—Old-Age, Survivors, and Disability Insurance (OASDI)—provides monthly benefits to workers and their families when the worker retires, dies, or becomes disabled. The amount of the worker's retirement insurance (old-age) or disability benefit is based on the worker's level of earnings in employment or self-employment covered by the Social Security program. Monthly benefits are payable to retired workers at age 62 (with reduced benefits) or to disabled workers at any age. The benefit amount for an auxiliary or survivor beneficiary is based on a percentage of the worker's benefit. Auxiliary and survivor beneficiaries must generally meet an age, disability, or child care requirement.

A total of 47,707,330 persons received benefits for December 2004. This number included 29,971,970 retired workers, 4,825,650 widows and widowers, 6,192,210 disabled workers, 2,723,630 wives and husbands, and 3,993,870 children. Social Security beneficiaries represented 15.8 percent of the total population and 90.7 percent of the population aged 65 or older.

Retired workers received an average monthly benefit of $955; widows and widowers, $897 (non-disabled widows and widowers, $920); disabled workers, $894; and wives and husbands of retired and disabled workers, $464. Average benefits for children of retired, deceased, and disabled workers were $466, $625, and $265, respectively.

Monthly benefits for December 2004 totaled $41.6 billion. Of this amount, $30.1 billion was paid to retired workers and their spouses and children, $5.5 billion to survivors, and $6.0 billion to disabled workers and their spouses and children. Average and total monthly benefits include the 2.7 percent cost-of-living increase effective December 2004.

In New Mexico, benefits were paid to 303,610 persons. This number included 180,860 retired workers, 29,700 widows and widowers, 42,150 disabled workers, 21,530 wives and husbands, and 29,370 children. Social Security beneficiaries represented 15.9 percent of the total population of the state and 89.6 percent of the state's population aged 65 or older.

Retired workers in New Mexico received an average of $892 per month; widows and widowers, $825; disabled workers, $861; and wives and husbands of retired and disabled workers, $421. Average benefits for children were $408 for children of retired workers, $520 for children of deceased workers, and $249 for children of disabled workers.

Monthly benefits for December 2004 totaled $243 million. Of this amount, $172 million was paid to retired workers and their spouses and children, $32 million to survivors, and $39 million to disabled workers and their spouses and children.

Supplemental Security Income

Supplemental Security Income (SSI) is a federal cash assistance program that provides monthly payments to low-income aged, blind, and disabled persons in the 50 states, the District of Columbia, and the Northern Mariana Islands. The program is based on nationally uniform eligibility standards and payment levels. The federal SSI payment is determined by the recipient's countable income, living arrangement, and marital status. As of January 2005, the maximum monthly federal SSI payment for an individual living in his or her own household and with no other countable income is $579, and for a couple, $869.

A state may supplement the payment levels of all or selected categories of recipients. These supplemental payments may be administered by the state or the Social Security Administration.

In December 2004, 6,987,845 persons received federally administered SSI payments: 1,211,167 were aged and 5,776,678 were disabled or blind. A total of 1,977,610 recipients were aged 65 or older, 4,017,108 were 18 to 64, and 993,127 were under the age of 18.

The total number of persons receiving a Social Security payment, a federally administered SSI payment, or both was 52,253,851. Federally administered payments totaled $3.2 billion in December 2004: $2.9 billion in federal SSI payments and $362 million in state supplements. The average federally administered payment was $428. Aged persons averaged $351, and disabled and blind persons, $445.

In addition, 552,346 persons in 31 states received state-administered payments in December 2004 that totaled $68.8 million.

In New Mexico, 51,656 persons—8,605 aged and 43,051 disabled and blind—received federally administered SSI payments in December 2004. A total of 15,572 recipients were aged 65 or older, 29,461 were aged 18 to 64, and 6,623 were under the age of 18.

Federal SSI payments totaled $21.1 million. The average federal payment was $377 overall: $242 for aged recipients and $404 for disabled and blind recipients. In addition, 177 persons in New Mexico received state-administered supplementation in December 2004 that totaled $18,000.

In December 2004, the total number of persons in New Mexico receiving a Social Security benefit, a federally administered SSI payment, or both was 334,943.
