Old Age, Disability, and Survivors

Regulatory Framework

First law: 1922, implemented in 1937.
Current laws: 2003 (pension and disability insurance), with amendments; and 2004 (social insurance), with amendment.
Type of program: Social insurance system.
Note: Social assistance benefits are provided to all individuals and families with monthly income lower than a set minimum level.

Coverage

Employed persons; self-employed persons, including members of handicraft and fishery cooperatives, artists, and persons performing a gainful economic activity under some kind of contract; and farmers.
Voluntary coverage is possible.
Special system for armed forces personnel.

Source of Funds

Insured person: 11% of gross earnings; voluntary contributors pay 22% of chosen earnings, according to 12 income brackets.
The minimum monthly earnings for contribution purposes are equal to 40% of the national monthly average wage.
The gross national monthly average wage is 27,378 dinars (November 2005).
The maximum monthly earnings for contribution purposes are equal to five times the national monthly average wage.
The insured’s contributions also finance benefits for work injuries and occupational diseases and medical benefits for pensioners.
Self-employed person: 22% of taxable income.
The minimum monthly income for contribution purposes is equal to 40% of the national monthly average wage.
The maximum monthly income for contribution purposes is equal to five times the national monthly average wage.
The self-employed person’s contributions also finance benefits for work injuries and occupational diseases and medical benefits for pensioners.
Employer: 11% of payroll. (Reduced-rate contributions are paid for up to 2 years on behalf of newly hired older workers.)

Government: Guarantees cash benefits; covers any eventual deficit.

Qualifying Conditions

Old-age pension: A age 63 (men) or age 58 (women) with at least 20 years of insurance coverage; age 53 with 40 years of insurance coverage (men) or age 53 with 35 years of insurance coverage (women); at any age with 45 years of insurance coverage.
Between 2008 and 2011, the retirement age will increase gradually by 6 months a year to age 65 (men) or age 60 (women) with at least 20 years of insurance coverage.
An old-age pensioner can begin new employment after retiring.
Deferred pension: A deferred pension is possible. There is no maximum deferral period.
Benefits are payable abroad under reciprocal agreement.
Disability pension: The insured must be younger than the pensionable age and assessed as incapable of all work (total disability). The required contribution period increases with age: 1 year of insurance if the disability began before age 20; 2 years if before age 25; 3 years if aged 25–29; and at least 5 years if aged 30 or older.
There is no minimum qualifying period for a disability resulting from a work injury or an occupational disease.
To receive cash benefits for a work injury or an occupational disease, the insured must have an assessed degree of disability of at least 30%. There are eight categories of assessed disability, ranging from 30% to 100%. The degree of disability is assessed by the Occupational Medicine Commission. The disability may be reviewed every 3 years.
Survivor pension: The deceased was a pensioner or had 5 years of insurance coverage or was eligible for a disability pension.
Eligible survivors include a widow aged 45 or older (a widower aged 53 or older), or disabled, or caring for a child younger than age 15 (age 26 if a student, no limit if disabled); a dependent mother aged 58 or older or disabled; a dependent father aged 63 or older or disabled; children younger than age 15 (age 26 if a student, age 27 if in military service, no limit if unemployed and disabled); and dependent grandchildren, brothers, or sisters.
Between 2008 and 2011, the age requirement will rise gradually to age 50 for a widow, age 60 for a dependent mother, and age 65 for a dependent father.

Benefits are payable abroad under reciprocal agreement.

Old-Age Benefits

Old-age pension: The pension is calculated as the product of the value of personal points (a personal coefficient multiplied by the number of years of service) and the value of the general point.

The personal coefficient is equal to the sum of annual personal coefficients divided by the period for which they are calculated. The annual personal coefficient is the ratio between an individual’s wage and the average wage in Serbia for the same calendar year.

The value of the general point is 347.46 dinars (January 2006). The general point is adjusted every 6 months in April and October.

The minimum monthly pension is equal to 25% of the national monthly average wage. The gross national monthly average wage is 27,378 dinars (November 2005).

The maximum pension is determined by rules that state that the personal coefficient must not exceed 4 and the annual personal coefficient must not exceed 5.

Schedule of payments: Pensions are paid twice a month; pensioners who were previously self-employed are paid monthly.

Benefit adjustment: Benefits are adjusted every 6 months, in April and October, according to changes in the cost of living and average net wages.

Survivor Benefits

Survivor pension: 70% of the pension paid or payable to the deceased is paid for one survivor; 80% for two survivors; 90% for three survivors; or 100% for four or more survivors. Full orphans receive a pension for both deceased parents.

The minimum survivor pension is equal to the old-age pension calculated on the basis of 20 years of insurance coverage.

The maximum survivor pension must not exceed the maximum disability pension.

The widow(er) pension does not cease on remarriage.

The survivor pension is suspended during any period for which the survivor is engaged in insured employment.

If a survivor receives a pension in his or her own right, the survivor must choose to receive only one pension.

Funeral grant: For the death of a pensioner, the cost of the funeral is paid to the person who paid for the funeral, up to a maximum of 150% of the average pension paid in the last quarter before the pensioner’s death.

Benefit adjustment: Benefits are adjusted every 6 months, in April and October, according to changes in the cost of living and average net wages.

Administrative Organization

Republic Fund for Employees’ Pension and Disability Insurance administers the program for employees.

Separate funds administer pension and disability insurance for self-employed persons and farmers.

Government: None; contributes as an employer.

Qualifying Conditions

Cash sickness benefits: Must be insured for at least 3 continuous months or 6 months with interruptions in the last 18 months. There is no minimum insurance period required for an incapacity resulting from a work injury or an occupational disease. The benefit is also payable for providing care for a sick family member or if the insured provides a tissue or organ donation (but not a blood donation).

If the insured receives benefits for more than 6 continuous months or for longer than 12 months within an 18-month period and is still incapable of work, a disability pension may be paid.

Cash maternity benefits: Payable to the child’s parent (including the father) or custodian. A foster parent is also entitled to benefits for the adoption of a child.

Medical benefits: There is no minimum qualifying period.

Sickness and Maternity Benefits

Sickness benefit: The monthly benefit is payable from the first day of incapacity until recovery or until the award of a disability pension. (The employer pays benefits for the first 30 days.) The insured receives 65% of the calculation base; 100% for a work injury or an occupational disease; 100% for a tissue or organ donation.

The calculation base for an insured person is the insured’s average wage in the last 3 months, up to a maximum of five times the national monthly average wage.

The calculation base for a self-employed person is average taxable income in the last 3 months.

If the beneficiary receives the benefit for more than 2 months, the calculation base is adjusted each month according to changes in the average wage in his or her place of employment.

Maternity benefit: 100% of earnings are paid with 6 months of continuous insurance coverage; 60% with more than 3 but less than 6 months; 30% with at least 3 months. The benefit is paid monthly.

Earnings for benefit calculation purposes are earnings in the last month before the maternity leave period began, up to a maximum of five times the national monthly average wage.

The minimum benefit is equal to the minimum monthly wage.

For a self-employed person, the benefit is equal to average taxable income in the last 3 months.

The leave period for the first and second child begins 28 days before the expected date of childbirth and is paid for 365 days. The leave period for the third and each successive child is paid for 2 years.

Benefit adjustment: Benefits are adjusted monthly according to changes in the national average wage.

Maternity grant: The amount of the grant is determined by the Republic Health Insurance Fund.
Workers' Medical Benefits

Medical services are provided directly to patients through the facilities of the government health service on the basis of contracts with local health insurance associations.

Services include measures for prevention and early detection of diseases, medicines, surgery, family planning and maternity care (for up to 12 months after childbirth), dental treatment, and prostheses.

Compulsory medical insurance funds finance from 65% to 100% of the cost of medical services and treatments, according to the schedule in law; 100% of the cost of medical services and treatments for work injuries and occupational diseases.

Copayments are reduced for benefits for military and civil war invalids, blind persons and permanently disabled persons, persons receiving financial compensation for providing care to another person, and for voluntary blood donors.
