High-income earners also pay an additional 0.9 percent in Medicare taxes on earnings above certain amounts. Check with the Internal Revenue Service for more details.
Work credits
When you work, you earn credits toward Social Security benefits. The number of credits you need to be eligible for Social Security benefits depends on your age and the type of benefit for which you are applying. You can earn a maximum of four credits each year. Most people need 40 credits to qualify for retirement benefits.
	2015	2016
	$1,220 earns one credit	$1,260 earns one credit

Information for people who receive Social Security benefits

Earnings limits
Under federal law, people who are receiving Social Security benefits, and who have not reached full retirement age, are entitled to receive all of their benefits as long as their earnings are under the limits indicated below. For people born in 1943 through 1954, the full retirement age is 66. The full retirement age increases gradually each year until it reaches age 67 for people born in 1960 or later.
	2015	2016
At full retirement age or older	No limit on earnings	No limit on earnings
Under full retirement age	$15,720 For every $2 over the limit, $1 is withheld from benefits.	$15,720 For every $2 over the limit, $1 is withheld from benefits.
In the year you reach full retirement age	$41,880 For every $3 over the limit, $1 is withheld from benefits until the month you reach full retirement age.	$41,880 For every $3 over the limit, $1 is withheld from benefits until the month you reach full retirement age.
Disability beneficiaries' earnings limits: If you work while receiving disability benefits, you must tell us about your earnings no matter how little you earn. You may have unlimited earnings during a trial work period of up to nine months (not necessarily in a row) and still receive full benefits. Once you have completed your nine-month trial work period, we will determine if you are still entitled to disability benefits. You also may be eligible for other work incentives to help you make the transition back to work.
Substantial Gainful Activity (non-blind)	$1,090 per month	$1,130 per month
Substantial Gainful Activity (blind)	$1,820 per month	$1,820 per month
Trial work period month	$780 per month	$810 per month

Information for people who receive Supplemental Security Income (SSI)

Monthly federal SSI payment (maximum)
	2015	2016
Individual	$733	$733
Couple	$1,100	$1,100
Monthly income limits
Individual whose income is only from wages	$1,551	$1,551
Individual whose income is not from wages	$753	$753
Couple whose income is only from wages	$2,285	$2,285
Couple whose income is not from wages	$1,120	$1,120

NOTE: If you have income, your monthly benefit generally will be lower than the maximum federal SSI payment. Remember, you must report all of your income to us. Some states add money to the federal SSI payment. If you live in one of these states, you may qualify for a higher payment. Your income can be greater than the limits indicated and you still may qualify.
