Supplemental Security Income (SSI) in Nevada

What is SSI?

SSI, or Social Security Disability Insurance, is a federal program that provides monthly payments to people who have limited income and resources. SSI is for people who are 65 or older, as well as people of any age, including children, who are blind or have disabilities.

To qualify for SSI, you must also have little or no income and few resources. The value of the things you own must be less than $2,000 if you're single or less than $3,000 for married couples living together. We don't count the value of your home if you live in it, and, usually, we don't count the value of your car. We may not count the value of certain other resources either, such as a burial plot.

To get SSI, you must also apply for any other government benefits for which you may be eligible. You must live in the United States or Northern Mariana Islands to receive SSI. If you’re not a U.S. citizen, but you lawfully reside in the United States, you may still be able to get SSI. For more information, read Supplemental Security Income (SSI) for Non-Citizens (Publication No. 05-11051).

The state of Nevada pays an optional state supplement to all SSI recipients who are elderly or blind. The state of Nevada doesn’t offer a state supplement to a person with a disability except under specific circumstances. One circumstance is if the person is part of an eligible couple with an aged or blind partner. The other circumstance is if the person resides in an institution where medical assistance pays for more than 50% of the person’s care.

The single payment you get at the beginning of each month includes both the federal SSI payment and your supplement from Nevada.

Medical assistance

If you get SSI payments, you can usually get medical assistance (Medicaid). You must apply for Medicaid at your local county health or human services office.

Supplemental Nutrition Assistance Program (SNAP)

If you get SSI, you may be able to get help through SNAP, formerly known as food stamps. SNAP benefits can help you buy more food without spending more money. However, we don’t decide if you qualify for SNAP benefits. If everyone in your household is applying for or getting SSI, you can apply for SNAP at a Social Security office. If not, you must apply at your local county health or human services office.

Other social services

People who qualify for SSI are often eligible for additional programs and services provided by their local county health or human services office. These other services or benefits may include:

• Adult placement.
• Child behavior and development.
• Child care.
• Employment services.
• Family counseling.
• Family planning.
• Foster care.
• Health-related services.
• Home-delivered meals.
• Home management.
• Institutional care for children.
• Protective services for adults and children.
• Rehabilitation.
• Transportation.
• Information and referrals.
For more information, contact your local county health or human services office.

Monthly SSI payment amounts

The table below lists the combined federal and state payment amounts. Not all SSI recipients receive the maximum amount. Your payment may be lower if you have other income.

Contacting Social Security

The most convenient way to do business with us is to visit www.ssa.gov to get information and use our online services. There are several things you can do online: apply for benefits; get useful information; find publications; and get answers to frequently asked questions.

When you open a personal my Social Security account, you have more capabilities. You can review your Social Security Statement, verify your earnings, and get estimates of future benefits. You can also print a benefit verification letter, change your direct deposit information, request a replacement Medicare card, get a replacement SSA-1099/1042S, and request a replacement Social Security card (if you have no changes and your state participates). Access to your personal my Social Security account may be limited for users outside the United States.

If you don’t have access to the internet, we offer many automated services by telephone, 24 hours a day, 7 days a week, so you do not need to speak with a representative. Call us toll-free at 1-800-772-1213 or at our TTY number, 1-800-325-0778, if you’re deaf or hard of hearing.

A member of our staff can answer your call from 8 a.m. to 7 p.m., Monday through Friday. Wait times to speak to a representative are typically shorter Wednesdays through Fridays or later in the day.
