

Supplemental Security Income (SSI) in California

What is SSI?

Supplemental Security Income (SSI) is a federal program that provides monthly payments to people with limited income and few resources. SSI is for people who are 65 or older, as well as people of any age, including children, who are blind or have disabilities.

To be eligible for SSI, you must also have little or no income and few resources. The value of the things you own must be less than $2,000 if you're single or less than $3,000 for married couples living together. We don't count the value of your home if you live in it, and, usually, we don't count the value of your car. We may not count the value of certain other resources, such as a burial plot.

To get SSI, you must apply for any other government benefits for which you may be eligible. You must live in the United States or the Northern Mariana Islands to get SSI. If you're not a U.S. citizen but you legally live in the U.S., you may still be able to get SSI. For more information, read Supplemental Security Income (SSI) for Noncitizens (Publication No. 05-11051).

The state of California adds money to the federal payment. The payment you get at the beginning of each month includes both the federal SSI payment and your supplement from California.

Medical assistance

If you get SSI, you usually can get medical assistance (Medi-Cal) automatically. A separate Medi-Cal application isn't necessary. If you have questions about Medi-Cal, contact your local county social services office.

Supplemental Nutrition Assistance Program (SNAP) – also known as CalFresh

If you get SSI, you may be able to get help through SNAP (CalFresh), formerly known as food stamps. SNAP benefits can help you buy more food without spending more money. We don't decide if you qualify for SNAP benefits. You may apply for CalFresh at any Social Security office if all of the following apply:

- You currently live in California.
- You get or are applying for SSI.
- You live alone or in a household where everyone is either getting or applying for SSI.
- You do not already get CalFresh benefits.
- You have not filed for CalFresh within the past 60 days.

You can use the online SNAP Pre-Screening Eligibility Tool at www.fns.usda.gov/snap/recipient/eligibility to see if you may be eligible for SNAP. You may also call SNAP's toll-free information line at 1-800-221-5689. Visit www.cdss.ca.gov/food-nutrition/calfresh to apply for CalFresh or for more details about the program.

Other social services

People who are eligible for SSI may be eligible for additional resources and services provided by their local county social services office, including:

- Home and community-based services.
- Domestic and personal care services for people who are aged, blind, or have a disability, and live in their own homes.
- Mental health and substance abuse services.
- Information and referrals.

For more information, contact the local county social services office.
